Arno Michaelis is a sought after speaker whose message is motivating. In the late 1980s and early 1990s, he was a leader of a worldwide racist skinhead organization, a reverend of a self-declared Racial Holy War, and lead singer of the hate-metal band Centurion. Single parenthood, love for his daughter, and the forgiveness shown by people he once hated, all helped turn Michaelis' life around, bringing him to embrace diversity and practice gratitude for all life. He is now a speaker, author of My Life After Hate, co-author of The Gift of Our Wounds, and an educator working Serve 2 Unite and a global network of peacemakers and mentors, such as The Forgiveness Project, Search for Common Ground, Against Violent Extremism and Parents for Peace.
